

Roger Zogolovitch

Director

AADipl, RIBA, FRSA

The Team

Roger is a founding director of AZ Urban Studio and responsible for Design Management and Review. An architect by training, he has considerable expertise in design leadership and project promotion.

He has shaped innovative projects for the private and public sector from the multiple-award winning 1 Centaur Street development in Waterloo to large scale masterplans for Hastings and Plymouth.

As an expert in design management Roger sits on a number of design review panels, including Southwark, Stratford (The Olympic Village) and West Midlands Design Review Panel. He has acted as expert witness at public inquiries for planning appeals and transport and works projects including Poole Harbour Bridge.

In addition to his work at AZ Urban Studio Roger lectures regularly on design and housing and previously taught the Infrastructure and Development Course at the London School of Economics, Cities Programme. He sits on the Royal Academy Client committee and is a past President of the Architectural Association. He is a long standing a member of the RIBA's Policy and Strategy committee and a trustee of the RIBA Trust.
